Thank you for your inquiry. I am able to share your information with members of our Community Sustainability Council so that they will be aware of your idea. I would also suggest you contact Sustainable Greensboro to determine whether they would have an interest in sponsoring a public event of that nature. I am copying Brian Higgins with Sustainable Greensboro on this message.

I am a current doctoral student with an emphasis in Environmental Management and Social Sustainability and am interested in Action Research revolving the many environmental issues in our City. I have read through the draft sustainability action plan and believe the City is definitely taking a stance on improving the community for our future generations. The key word that estranges many is CHANGE. ---My reason for contacting is to inquire about the procedure of collaborating and/or sponsoring organizations throughout the State. One organization that has visited Greensboro in the past is Green Opportunities (GO) - <http://www.greenopportunities.org/>. Is there a way an organization can be recommended to present in open forum? If so, how may I go about getting this particular organization sponsored for a luncheon or community based seminar (open to the public) about the many programs the organization provides? Your response will be greatly appreciated. Sincerely, Shameka S. Collins

We do not maintain a list of green companies. You can try this list - there may be others you can find on the internet.

Could you send me a list of the major Green Companies in Greensboro? Or do you know where I might be able to find a list?
